

Table of Contents

Introduction	3
About This Edition	3
The Composers and Their Times	4
The Classical Era	4
Romanticism	5
After Romanticism	7
Songs
Jean Paul Égide Martini	Page	CD 1	Track
Plaisir d'amour (Florian)	9	1	1
Pierre Garat
Romance d'Arabelle (Millevoeye)	17	2	2
Pauline Duchambge
La jalousie (anonymous)	22	3	3
Louis Niedermeyer
Puisqu'ici-bas tout âme (Hugo)	28	4	4
Hippolyte Monpou
L'Andalouse (Musset)	36	5	5
Maria Malibran
Duet: Belle, viens à moi
(Desbordes-Valmore)	45	6	6
Félicien David
Tristesse de l'odalisque (Gautier)	50	7	7
Charles Gounod
Chanson de pâtre (Augier)	56	8	8
Sérénade (Hugo)	62	9	9
Théodore Gouvy
Le doux sommeil (Ronsard)	69	10	10
Pauline Viardot
L'ombre et le jour (Turquety)	72	11	11
Bonjour, mon cœur (Ronsard)	75	12	12
Au jardin de mon père (anonymous)	80	13	13
Berceuse (Bordèse)	86	14	14
Edouard Lalo
Dieu qui sourit (Hugo)	92	15	15
Oh, quand je dors (Hugo)	96	16	16
Camille Saint-Saëns
Clair de lune (Mendès)	103	17	17
Pourquoi rester seulette (Croze)	107	18	18
Georges Bizet	Page	CD 2	Track
Sonnet (Ronsard)	113	1	1
Alexis de Castillon
Sonnet mélancolique (Silvestre)	119	2	2
Emmanuel Chabrier
Lied (Mendès)	124	3	3
Jules Massenet
Souvenir de Venise (Musset)	134	4	4
Ouvre tes yeux bleus (Robiquet)	139	5	5
Emile Paladilhe
Le voyage (Florian)	144	6	6
Gabriel Fauré
Puisque j'ai mis ma lèvre (Hugo)	149	7	7
Les berceaux (Prudhomme)	156	8	8
Le secret (Silvestre)	162	9	9
Aurore (Silvestre)	165	10	10
Nocturne (Villiers)	170	11	11
En prière (Bordèse)	174	12	12
Henri Duparc
Extase (Lahor)	180	13	13
Le manoir de Rosemonde (Bonnières)	184	14	14
Ernest Chausson
Duet: La nuit (Banville)	190	15	15
Claude Debussy
Romance (Bourget)	196	16	16
Il pleure dans mon cœur (Verlaine)	200	17	17
En sourdine (Verlaine)	210	18	18
Clair de lune (Verlaine)	216	19	19
Erik Satie
Que me font ces vallons (Lamartine)	222	20	20
André Caplet
Quand reverrai-je, hélas! (Bellay)	224	21	21
En regardant ces belles fleurs
(d'Orléans)	227	22	22
Poldowski
Colombine (Verlaine)	232	23	23
Phonemes of French	240

Plaisir d'amour

/plɛzɪr da mur/

The Pleasure of Love

plɛ zɪr da mur nə dy rə kœ mɔ mɑ

1. Plaisir d'amour ne dure qu'un moment;
Pleasure of-love only lasts but-one moment;

ʃa grɛ da mur dy rə tu tə la vi ə

2. Chagrin d'amour dure toute la vie.
distress of love lasts all-life.

ʒe tu ki te pur lɛ gra tə sil vi ə

3. J'ai tout quitté pour l'ingrate Silvie:
I-have everything left for the-ungrateful Sylvia;

ɛ lə mə ki te prɑ tœ no tra mɑ

4. Elle me quitte et prend un autre amant.
she me leaves and takes an other lover.

5. Plaisir d'amour ne dure qu'un moment;

6. Chagrin d'amour dure toute la vie.

tɑ kə sɛ to ku lə ra dusəmɑ

7. Tant que cette eau coulera doucement
"As-long as this water will-run gently

vɛr sə rɥiso ki bɔrdə la prɛriə

8. Vers ce ruisseau qui borde la prairie, toward this brook that lines the meadow

ʒə tɛ mə re mə re pe tɛ sil vi ə

9. Je t'aimerai, me répétait Silvie.
I you-shall-love," to-me repeated Sylvia.

lo ku lɑ kɔr ɛ la ʃɑ ʒe pur tɑ

10. L'eau coule encor; elle a changé pourtant.
The-water runs yet; she has changed, even so.

11. Plaisir d'amour ne dure qu'un moment;

12. Chagrin d'amour dure toute la vie.

Jean-Pierre Claris de Florian (1755–1794)

/ʒɑ pjɛrə klari də flɔʁjɑ/

Jean Paul Égide Martini (1741–1816)

/ʒ pɔl ɛzidə martiːni/

Poetic Background

"Love was exciting, but I will never get over my disappointment."

This poem occurs in Célestine, a nouvelle (long story) set in Spain. The title character, who "at seventeen years was the beauty of Grenada," was a wealthy orphan. Her guardian expected her to marry his son, Enrique, but she was in love with a poor young man, Pedro. They planned to elope, but an emergency prevented Pedro from keeping the rendezvous. When Enrique rode by, Célestine hid from him.

Still in hiding, Célestine heard a sweet but uncultivated voice, singing the words of "Plaisir d'amour" to a "rustic air." Hearing about love's bitter disappointment, Célestine cried out, "Who knows it better than I?" The singer was a young goat herder who had left his home village because of a disappointment in love. Célestine bought his spare clothing and set out on a new life, dressed as a boy. After many tribulations Pedro found her, and they married happily.

The poem has two six-line stanzas, rhymed ABbaAB abbaAB (upper case letters indicate repeated lines). Each line has ten syllables, with feminine a rhymes. Having repeated lines and only two rhyme sounds, the form of the poem resembles a classical French rondel, but does not fully conform to its rules.

Title: In Célestine, the poem has no title.

Line 1: ne...que is an idiom meaning "only."

Line 3: Silvie, not Sylvie, is the spelling shown in the text and music sources used here. The name Sylvia is one that is often used in pastoral poetry.

Lines 7–9: tant... t'aimerai: Note that French poetry does not always use quotation marks when they would be required in English.

Line 9: répétait was spelled répétoit in the sources used here, but in the 1700s the spelling -oi- was pronounced /e/.

The text has been verified with an early edition: Célestine, nouvelle espagnole, in Nouvelles, vol. 5 (Paris: P. Didot aîné, 1792).

A different poem by Florian, "Ah! s'il est dans votre village," was formerly popular in a setting by Benjamin Godard, entitled "Chanson de Florian" (1871).

Romance d'Arabelle

Pierre Garat

Edited by John Glenn Paton

(Range: E4–F5)

Charles Hubert Millevoye

1. Le no - ble Ar - thus fut ai - mé d'A - ra - bel - le, qui pour lui

4

seul a - vait con - nu l'a - mour; dis - si - mu - lant sa

8

bles - su - re mor - tel - le, el - le brû - lait sans—

Suggested tempo: $\text{♩} = 50\text{--}58$. The tempo may be somewhat free, following the expression of the poem. The composer did not indicate dynamics; they are at the performer's discretion. The pianist may vary the stanzas by sometimes doubling the bass in octaves or by filling in the sparse harmonies.

M1: (voice) Sing the appoggiatura and its note as two eighths, slurred.

M11: (voice, beat 4) Sing the quarter note and the following grace note as a dotted eighth and a sixteenth, slurred.

Translation: 1. Noble Arthur was beloved by Arabelle, who had never loved anyone else. Hiding her deep longing, she burned with